FAQ - PUPPY COIN PROPERTIES

Q1 - 1,000,000,000 Fixed Limited Supply

Puppy has a fixed limited supply of 1,000,000,000 tokens total. No more can ever be created, as guaranteed by code. Puppy is considered rare at 21x the scarcity of Bitcoin, and purer at an absolute 0.00% inflation rate. (In comparison, Bitcoin inflates at 2%, Ethereum at 4.2%, and Dogecoin at 3.8%). Puppy begins with an initial price of 0.00016 $ per token, and its value rises over time with scarcity.

Q2 - Moon is the limit

Puppy is pegged to a minimum 1 USDC per token with a "liquidity wall." The top is unlimited. Unlike traditional stable coins, Puppy has a fixed supply and therefore has no fixed maximum top. As Puppy gains popularity and circulation, it could potentially reach higher values being worth as much as 10 million or 100 million. Moon is the limit.

Q3 - Web 3 Decentralized Social Coin

Puppy is a next-gen Web 3.0 decentralized social coin and meme-coin. Unlike older meme-coins like Doge, Puppy fully supports smart-contracts and modern Proof-of-Stake networks. As a blockchain-agnostic / multi-chain cryptocurrency, Puppy leverages the latest modern technologies to enable decentralized finance, staking, NFTs, governance, gaming, and the metaverse.

Q4 - Community-Driven Ecosystem

At its foundations, Puppy is a social-media driven cryptocurrency that can drive rapid exponential growth.

Q5 - Transactional Currency & Store of Value

As a decentralized currency, Puppy can be used both as a store of value coin and a means of transaction. Puppy can be transferred in fractional amounts (up to 18 decimals), allowing it to be also used for smaller transactions.

Q6 - Exclusive club of Puppy Lovers

Puppy acts as a hybrid-NFT, with its limited supply of 1,000,000 coins. Puppy's widespread fame on social-media has made it a collectible as well as to adorn any digital wallet.
